

Communication in the Chemical Engineering Curriculum

Ed Clausen and Carolyne Garcia
University of Arkansas

Modifications to the approach to teaching some courses have added a crucial communication component to the chemical engineering curriculum at the University of Arkansas. This paper traces the history of adding communication to the Chemical Engineering curriculum.